A lot of times, we think the journey to getting healthy is purely physical, but that couldn't be further from the truth! Your mind needs just as much training as your body does to get in shape (if not more).

A good place to start is You Are a Badass, by Jen Sincero. Food Freedom Forever is also amazing! Check out this list for more suggestions! Feel free to talk with your coach about what a good book for you would be (personal development should be personal to what you want/need to work on).
